Windsor Introduces New Multi-Purpose Cleaning System

Denver, Co – Windsor Industries, a Castle Rock Industries company, today introduced its new multi-purpose cleaning system, the Compass™. The Compass is a specialty surface cleaning machine that safely and accurately dispenses cleaning solutions with high-pressure rinses, then vacuums the surface completely dry. It reduces the entire cleaning cycle by 33% or more.

The Compass features an ergonomic design that insures operator safety and convenience. A drip tray has been added to eliminate water trails that can create slip-and-fall hazards. The unit has a 30-foot expandable vacuum hose that, combined with a tool storage area, helps leave working areas free of clutter.

With a 29-gallon solution tank and 19-gallon recovery tank, the Compass allows greater cleaning times between refills. The system features an optional, patent-pending multi-function wand that combines a conventional floor squeegee, a dry pickup brush, a carpet extraction tool and a grout tool with twin adjustable heads and brushes. The two-stage vacuum motor provides 900 watts of power, while the pump delivers solutions at 400 psi (or 34 bar).

Designed for UL approval, the Compass provides touchless cleaning for multiple surface areas, with easy access to tools, chemicals and accessories. It is the latest addition to the Windsor family of floor productivity machines
